BUNCOMBE COUNTY COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM LEADERSHIP AWARDS

“Man and Woman of the Year”

Year

PURPOSE
Special recognition awards are presented annually by the Buncombe County Community Development Council and North Carolina Cooperative Extension-Buncombe County Center to recognize individuals who, through hard work and dedication to a better way of living, have helped make significant improvement in the life of their area. The outstanding man and the outstanding woman will be selected from nominees of Community Development Program entries participating in the overall Buncombe County Community Development Program.

ELIGIBILITY
Every community is encouraged to nominate individuals for this award! Only one man and/or one woman who have provided leadership resulting in the improvement of community life may be nominated. Any previous nominees may be renominated unless they have been a county winner.

PROCEDURE
Complete the attached form. Extra sheets and supplemental information may be added if desired.

1. Community nominations must be submitted to North Carolina Cooperative Extension-Buncombe County Center at the time of the county Community Development judging. One man and one woman will be selected as Buncombe County Man of the Year and Buncombe County Woman of the Year.

2. Selections will be based on written reports. Both the current year's activities and previous years' activities will be considered.

RECOGNITION
The outstanding man and the outstanding woman named for Buncombe County will receive recognition plaques.
